National Black History Month

Mes Nacional de la Historia Afroestadounidense

February is National Black History Month. Unsung heroes like Charles Houston and 16-year-old Barbara Johns paved much of the early road to the most famous civil rights cases pursued by every oppressed people in our nation. Learn about them. Their stories are inspiring!

There is still work to be done, but it's the respect and love we show for each other on a daily basis that ultimately has the most impact on the world.
